ATS Introduces Cesium™ ... Making PeopleSoft® Even More Powerful

Ellington, Connecticut –June 13, 2010 –Accu-Time Systems announced availability of its Cesium Middleware at the Oracle Human Capital Management Users Group (OHUG) meeting in Las Vegas. Cesium is a new Oracle-validated software solution that allows Oracle’s PeopleSoft Enterprise 9.1 human capital management software to communicate with ATS workforce management terminals.

Cesium enables highly accurate time and attendance data collection, database and personnel management, data analysis, and reporting. By enabling 2-way communication between ATS terminals and PeopleSoft Enterprise®, Cesium allows the industry’s leading workforce management products to seamlessly integrate with the world’s premier human capital management enterprise software solution. Cesium uses Java to run on most operating systems, including Windows Server, Linux, and Unix. Communication between Cesium and PeopleSoft uses XML and secure HTTPS.

ATS, an Oracle Partner, exhibited its Maximus workforce management terminal with integrated Cesium software at OHUG. According to Peter DiMaria, President of ATS, “We have developed Cesium with the goal of creating a reliable, powerful, fast, and highly efficient software solution. The software is specifically designed to give PeopleSoft users a communication and data exchange bridge so that they can easily integrate ATS time and attendance and workforce management tools. This will help push their human resource management costs down and provide the most accurate workforce data available today.”

Cesium provides simple terminal maintenance, manages multiple time zones, manages data transmission between terminals and PeopleSoft, and provides a customizable interface at the terminal and the server. Cesium uses Java to run on most operating systems, including Windows Server, Linux, and Unix. Communication between Cesium and PeopleSoft uses XML and secure HTTPS.
