FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Accu-Time Systems, Inc. to be Featured on SKY RADIO.

Accu-Time Systems (ATS), a leading manufacturer of Workforce Management, Time and Attendance, and Data Collection devices, will be featured on SKY RADIO during the months of March and April in 2006.

The program focuses on innovative security solutions and features ATS and its line of biometric human asset management products. Peter DiMaria, founder and CEO of ATS, who was interviewed for the program, states “SKY RADIO has always provided timely, relevant and compelling real-world business news and information to a large audience of intelligent and influential individuals. ATS is proud to now be a part of that great tradition.”

SKY RADIO’s guest list reads like a who’s who of business leaders and newsmakers from Michael Dell, Charles Schwab, and Steve Forbes to President Jimmy Carter and former Secretary of State Madeleine Albright. Michael Glynn, corporate marketing manager for ATS states: “SKY RADIO’s reputation speaks for itself. ATS is pleased to be able to contribute value to this widely listened to program and reach out to potential users of our products and technology.”

Visit the ATS website to listen to a portion of this SKY RADIO program and hear Mr. DiMaria discuss how biometrics can increase the safety of your workplace while also demonstrating significant return on your investment. Additionally, Mr. DiMaria discusses the Optimus™, ATS’ highly anticipated next-generation human asset management terminal launching in January, 2006.
